

Worry Fairy

Sometimes I need a little help,
to keep my worries at bay,
I get nervous about the little things, which can sometimes spoil my day.

But I found this little fairy stone, for when my worries get too much,
I place my hand across the stone,
The fairy takes them from my touch.

So now when I feel troubled,
And my worries reappear,
I give them to the fairy
And have fun instead of fear.
